The Roof of the Future is Here Today!

Reelfoot Metal Building Supply's Stone-coated Metal Roofing products offer excellent durability and longevity. Amazing new technologies are used to mimic the look of traditional shingles, wood shake, or even clay tile. These revolutionary new products have many advantages over their older, outdated counterparts.

Virtually Maintenance-Free • Non-combustible • 50-year limited warranty • Impact Resistant
Withstands 100+MPH Winds • Lightweight • Weather Tight • Resists Fading and UV

Metal Shingle Products

Our Metal Shingle panels combine the cleanest roof lines with the incredible strength of modern stone-coated steel. Traditional shingle roofing can weather and separate after a few years and are vulnerable to high winds.

Incredibly strong, our Metal Shingle panels will easily outlast and outperform standard shingle roofs and are backed by a 50 year material warranty. That means total security for your home or business from the top down.

Metal Shake Products

Each panel is forged with deep wood grain impressions creating an exceptionally strong, secure steel roof covering for any architectural style.

Finished with an attractive stone coating and embedded in a UV resistant acrylic polymer for a lasting bond to steel. Designed to be Secure, Maintenance Free, Attractive, Reliable and made with Top Quality materials.

Metal Tile Products

Standard tile roofs can be heavy, yet fragile and costly to maintain. Our Mediterranean Tile has the graceful curves of classic tile, but the lightness and strength of stone-coated steel.

Providing style and satisfaction you could only wish for with standard tile roofs, it resists cracking and the harshest wind or weather, which equals unparalleled good looks combined with peace of mind for many years to come.
